"Our Emergency Department's patient experience scores are on the rise along with our patient volumes and we've even received positive comments from our ED physicians when they encounter patients whose wait times have been above the norm. Use of RELATE when rounding in the ED lobby has made the difference. This communication model has made even the most difficult patient scenario, waiting in the ED, a positive, "WOW" experience for many patients/families." -- Mary Lou Randolph, VP Patient Care Services, Sarah Bush Lincoln Health System
